COVID-19 (Coronavirus) – update for Students and Learners

BPP recognises that our students and learners may have concerns about the ongoing coronavirus outbreak. Your safety and wellbeing is, and always will be, our highest priority and we are closely monitoring this evolving situation and considering the official advice and updates available to us.

Currently, the risk to the public in the UK has been assessed as moderate. As a precautionary measure, the latest advice from Public Health England (PHE) should be regularly consulted and followed. Anyone who has entered the UK or Channel Islands in the last 14 days – regardless of their departure location – must follow the below instructions carefully.

The following guide provides guidance to students/learners who:

- have recently travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from Category 1* areas
- have recently travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from Category 2 areas
- have travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from any other location in the last 14 days
- have been in close proximity to someone who has travelled from Category 1 or 2 areas
- are located in an area outside of the UK and Channel Islands that is impacted by the outbreak
- are concerned about the symptoms of COVID-19

* Category 1 areas: Wuhan city and Hubei Province (China); Iran; Daegu or Cheongdo (Republic of Korea); any Italian town under containment measures.

 Category 2 areas: Cambodia; areas of China not covered in Category 1; Hong Kong; Italy (North); Japan; Laos; Macau; Malaysia; Myanmar; areas of the Republic of Korea not covered in Category 1; Singapore; Taiwan; Thailand; Vietnam.

More information on Categories 1 & 2 can be found here:

While the overall risk level of the coronavirus to the UK remains “moderate” (source:gov.uk), the Department of Health has described the virus as a “serious and imminent threat” to public health. This permits the government to plan for all eventualities, and to take extra measures to ensure that the virus is contained.

- Any student or learner who has travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from Category 1* areas in the last 14 days must self-isolate for 14 days. They must do this regardless of their symptoms, and contact healthandsafety@bpp.com with their recent travel history (evidence of travelling and countries visited will be required).
- Any student or learner who has travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from Category 2 areas (including airport stop overs) in the last 14 days and has symptoms associated with coronavirus (however minor) must self-isolate for 14 days and contact healthandsafety@bpp.com with their recent travel history (evidence of travelling and countries visited will be required).

- Any student or learner who has travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from Category 2 areas (including airport stop overs) in the last 14 days and has knowingly been in close proximity with someone else who is exhibiting the symptoms associated with coronavirus (however minor) must self-isolate for 14 days and contact healthandsafety@bpp.com with their recent travel history (evidence of travelling and countries visited will be required). They must do this regardless of their own symptoms.
- Any student or learner who has travelled to the UK or Channel Islands from abroad in the last 14 days must consult Public Health England and the advice available on the VLE homepage before returning to a BPP centre.
- Any student or learner who has knowingly been in close proximity with someone else who has recently travelled from an at-risk area and is exhibiting the symptoms associated with coronavirus (however minor) must self-isolate for 14 days and contact healthandsafety@bpp.com. They must do this regardless of their own symptoms.
- If you wish to travel outside the UK and Channel Islands during your programme of study, you may be subject to a period of self-isolation (quarantine) upon re-entry, in accordance with live Government advice. Regions classified as 'at risk' may change in the coming days and weeks. For your own wellbeing, and the safety of fellow students and learners, it is essential that you check live advice as you return to the UK and before you return to classes.

Please consult Public Health England for more general information. Specific arrangements relating to study at BPP can be found on the VLE homepage. These arrangements must be consulted and followed upon re-entry to the UK and before returning to a BPP centre.

Please take a moment to consider your perceptions during this time. Disease does not discriminate, people do. Remember that discrimination and stigma have no place at BPP or in the professions. If you believe that you have been a victim of racism or prejudice during this outbreak please contact the Inclusion Team at BPP for support and guidance at: Inclusion@bpp.com

Our thoughts go out to anyone impacted by the recent outbreak. If you require any (non-medical) support or advice, please contact your tutor. University attendees can contact their Programme Support Officer, Personal Tutor, Safeguarding@bpp.com or LearningSupport@bpp.com. Our counselling service is available at: www.totalwellness.info.

Germs can live on some surfaces for hours. To protect yourself and others:

- Always carry tissues with you and use them to catch your cough or sneeze.
- Bin the tissue and, to kill the germs, wash your hands with soap and water, or use a sanitiser gel.

This is the best way to slow the spread of almost any germs, including Coronavirus.

I am currently abroad, and I'm worried that I'll not be able to attend my timetabled classes. What should I do?

Please notify your Tutor or Programme Support Officer and healthandsafety@bpp.com of the reasons for your absence and your anticipated return date. We will offer support and guidance accordingly.

I have a Tier 4 visa. How will COVID-19 impact me?

If you have not travelled to an at-risk area, have not been in contact with someone who has tested positive for COVID-19 and have no symptoms associated with the virus, you should attend classes as planned.

If you have been put into quarantine or asked to self-isolate, you must stay away from BPP. Please notify your Tutor, Programme Support Officer and healthandsafety@bpp.com of the reasons for your absence and your anticipated return date. We will offer support and guidance accordingly.
